1. Overview

Every book is its own project. Inside a project you switch between seven sections in the top bar (at the bottom on a phone).

SECTION	WHAT IT IS FOR
Manuscript	writing, the structure of parts, chapters and scenes, corkboard, inspector, revision tools
World	characters, places, maps, races, religions, mythology, magic, magical currents, houses and factions, artefacts, glossary, events and your own categories
Relations	network and tree of relationships, family tree, relationships in time
Time	the story's timeline in your world's own calendar, with warnings
Notes	sticky notes and scene ideas
Export	PDF, Word, EPUB, beta reader edition, appendices, chapter by chapter, backup
Project	language, quotation marks, goals, statistics, sprints

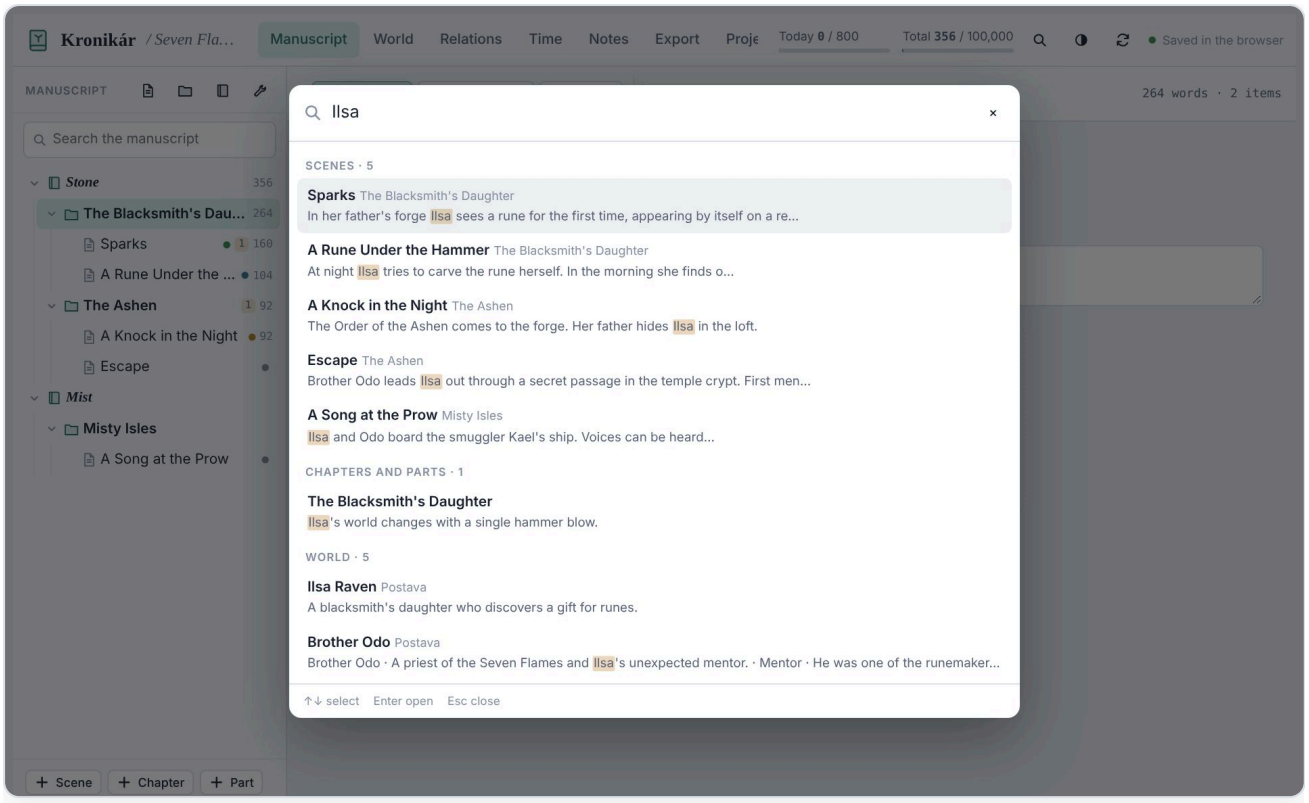

Top bar

ITEM	WHAT IT DOES
Today / Total	daily and total word goal with a progress bar
Magnifier	Search everywhere – also `Ctrl+K`
Sun / moon	Theme – tap to switch Follow the system → Light → Dark; applies to this device only
↻	Refresh – saves pending edits, loads changes from other devices and redraws the page
Save status	Saving… / Saved to the folder / Saved in the browser

> START WITH THE SAMPLE
> On the home screen click Sample project. A short fantasy with a world and relationships opens, so you can try everything out.

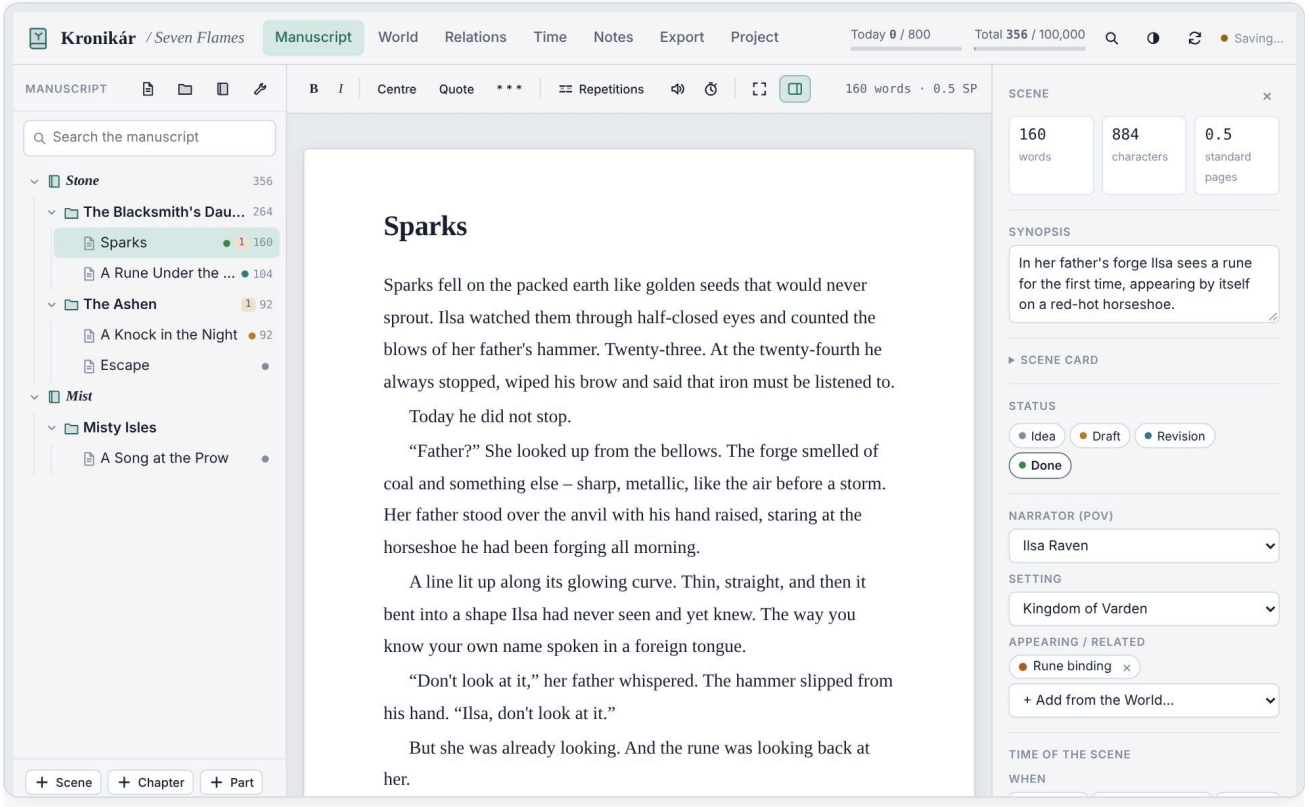

Search everywhere

The magnifier in the top bar (or `Ctrl+K`) searches scenes, chapters, World entries, sticky notes, scene ideas, plot threads and secrets at once. Results are grouped and the search word is highlighted. Use the arrows to choose and `Enter` to open.

Search everywhere.

2. Manuscript

Manuscript: structure on the left, text in the middle, scene inspector on the right.

Structure

- The manuscript is made of parts, chapters and scenes. Add them with + Scene, + Chapter and + Part at the bottom left or with the icons at the top.
- Change the order by dragging, or in the inspector with Up, Down and Move to....
- The coloured dot next to a scene is its status, the number on the right its word count, the number in a beige box the open sticky notes.
- Scenes placed directly in a part (not in a chapter) belong to the part – they are not numbered as chapters and are printed right after the part title.
- Search the manuscript searches titles, synopses and text.

Writing

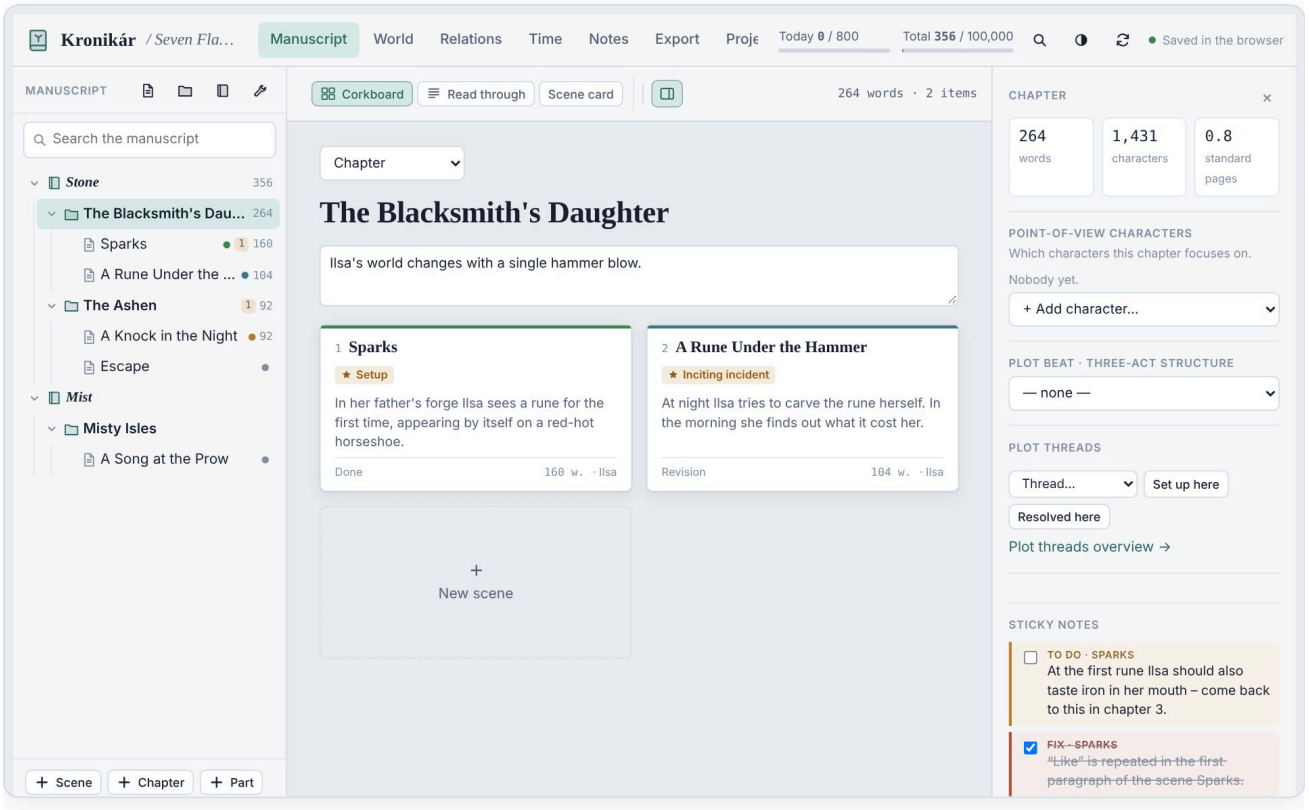

BUTTON	WHAT IT DOES
B / I	bold / italic (`Ctrl+B` / `Ctrl+I`)
Centre / Quote	centred paragraph / letter or quotation
*	scene break
Repetitions	highlights words repeated close together (20–150 words), also in other forms

BUTTON	WHAT IT DOES
Speaker	read aloud from the cursor with the sentence highlighted (on Android with the phone's voice)
Stopwatch	writing sprint of 10–45 minutes, optionally with a word goal; results in Project
Four corners	focus mode without panels, `Esc` ends it
Panel	opens or closes the inspector

- Text is saved as you go – nothing to confirm.
- Quotation marks type themselves: `"` inserts the main ones, `'` the nested ones. Choose the style in Project.
- At the top right you see words and standard pages (1 standard page = 1,800 characters including spaces).

Corkboard

Click a chapter or part. Cards of its scenes with synopses and status appear. Read through shows the whole chapter at once, Scene card shows goal, conflict, outcome and change instead of the synopsis.

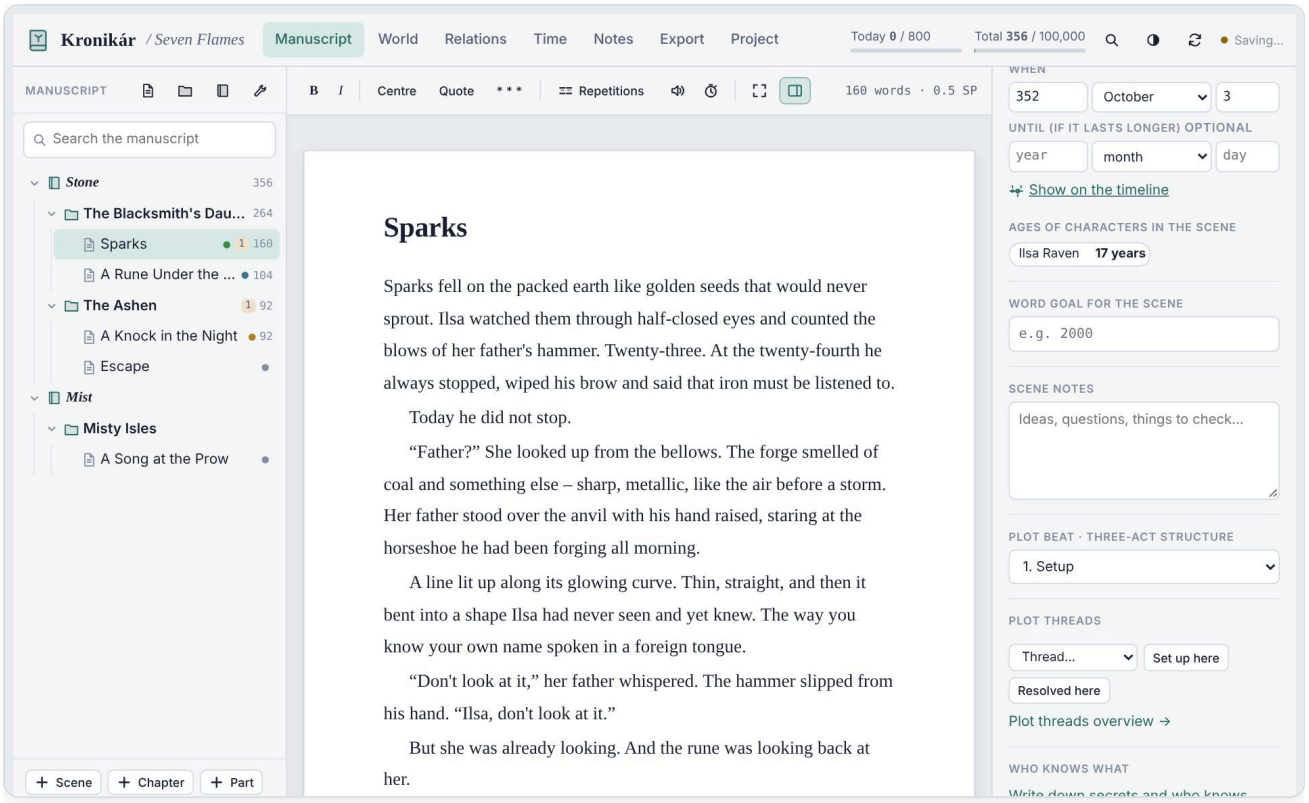

Chapter corkboard and chapter inspector.

3. Scene and chapter inspector

The inspector on the right shows everything about the selected scene, chapter or part. Sections you don't need stay collapsed or empty.

SECTION	WHAT IT HOLDS
Counts	words, characters and standard pages
Synopsis	a short summary – on the corkboard and for the book synopsis
Scene card	goal, conflict / obstacle, outcome, what changed
Status	Idea, Draft, Revision, Done
Narrator (POV)	whose point of view the scene is told from
Setting	a place from the World
Appearing / related	World entries present in the scene
Time of the scene	when it happens, in your world's calendar; shows the season, holiday and full or new moon
Ages of characters	how old those present are; warns when someone is not born yet or no longer alive
Events from the World	own events of entries linked to this scene
Plot beat	a beat from a plot template (e.g. three-act structure)
Plot threads	what is set up here and what is paid off
Who knows what	who of those present already knows which secret
Word goal, notes, sticky notes, links	working material for the scene
Scene versions	Save version before a rewrite, compare with the current text, restore
Include in export	untick it and the scene is left out of the book

Lower part of the inspector: ages, plot beat, threads and who knows what.

Chapter and part

- Point-of-view characters – the characters the chapter focuses on. Shown on the chapter card, in its scenes, and counted as present.
- Scene ideas assigned to the chapter.
- For consulting – downloads just this chapter, scene or part as PDF, Word or text, or copies its text; optionally with paragraph numbers (3.12) for comments.

4. Revision tools

The tools icon in the Manuscript bar opens a panel with tabs:

TOOL	WHAT IT IS FOR
Find and replace	in the whole manuscript; also renaming a World entry together with all its name forms
Names not in the world	capitalised words that are not in the World – typos in names (Ilas → Ilsa) and forgotten characters; fix, add to the world, add as a name form or ignore
Plot structure	three-act structure, Save the Cat, Hero's Journey, seven-point structure – assign scenes to beats and see where you are
Plot threads	setups and their payoffs; open threads at a glance and a warning when the payoff comes before the setup

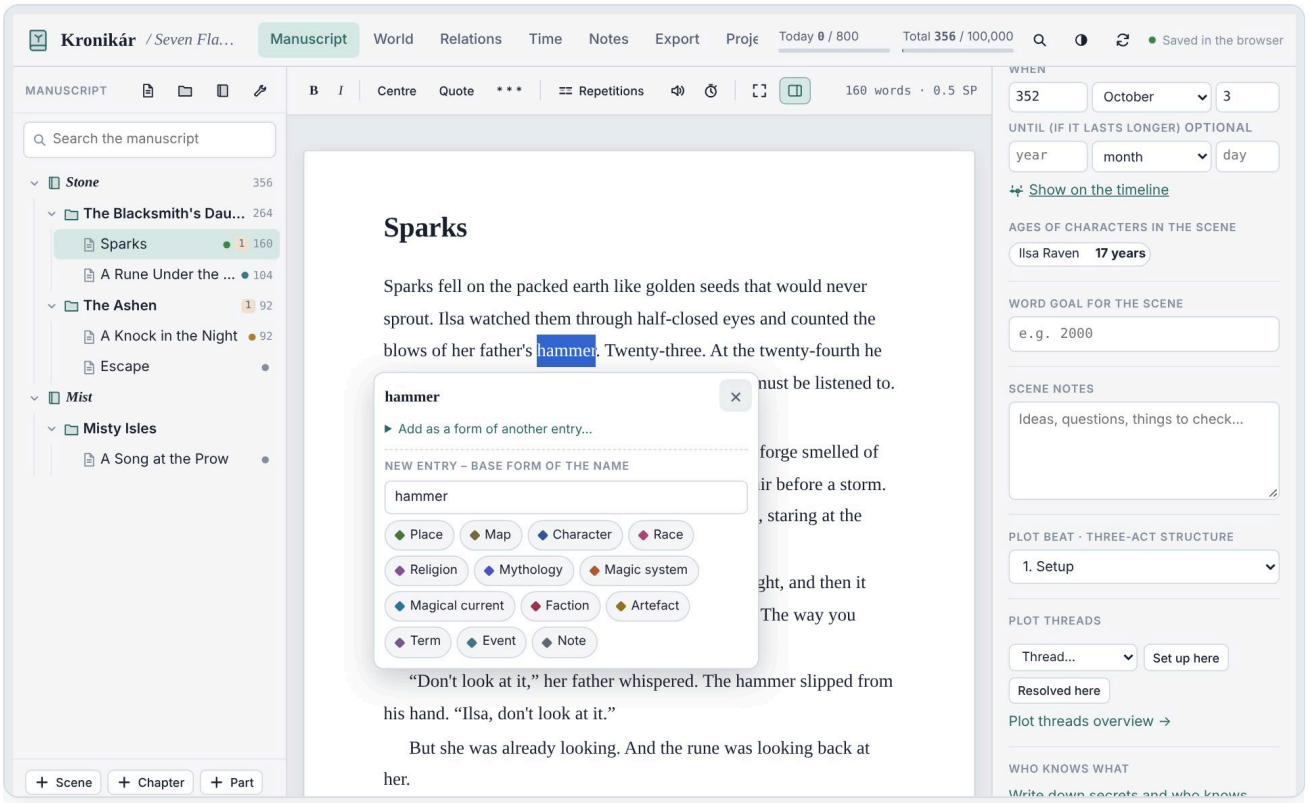

TOOL	WHAT IT IS FOR
Who knows what	secrets – from which chapter each character knows them and when the reader learns them
Tempo	chapter length, share of dialogue, number and average length of scenes, hints for unusual chapters

Chapter tempo.

5. From a word straight into the world

When you invent a new name while writing, you don't have to stop. Select it with the mouse (on a phone, press and hold) and a small panel appears.

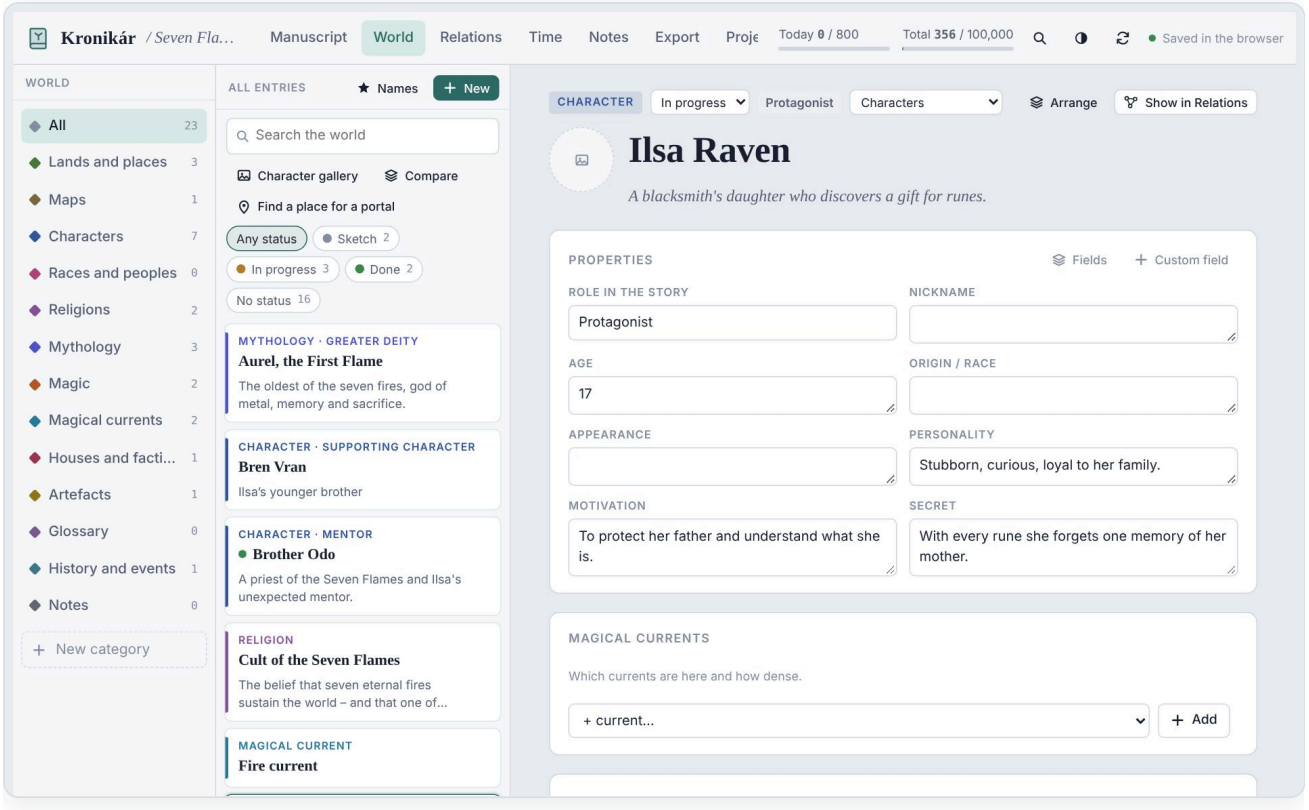

A selected word and the panel for adding it to the world.

1. Fix the base form of the name if you selected an inflected form.
2. Choose the category – Character, Place, Race, Mythology, Magical current...
3. Kronikár suggests inflected forms. Tap a wrong one to switch it off, type your own.
4. Choose Save and keep writing or Save and open card.

If the word belongs to an existing entry (a nickname, say), use Add as a form of another entry... Close the panel with the cross or `Esc`.

> WHY FORMS
>
> With the name forms and nicknames Kronikár finds where an entry is mentioned – in In the manuscript, on the timeline, for ages of characters and for appearance from the text.

6. World – list and categories

World: categories, list and a character entry.

Categories

- Built in: lands and places, maps, characters, races and peoples, religions, mythology (gods, deified heroes, saints, spirits, beings, a world tree…), magic, magical currents, houses and factions, artefacts, glossary (invented words with pronunciation and meaning), history and events, notes.
- New category – your own category with a name, colour and fields.

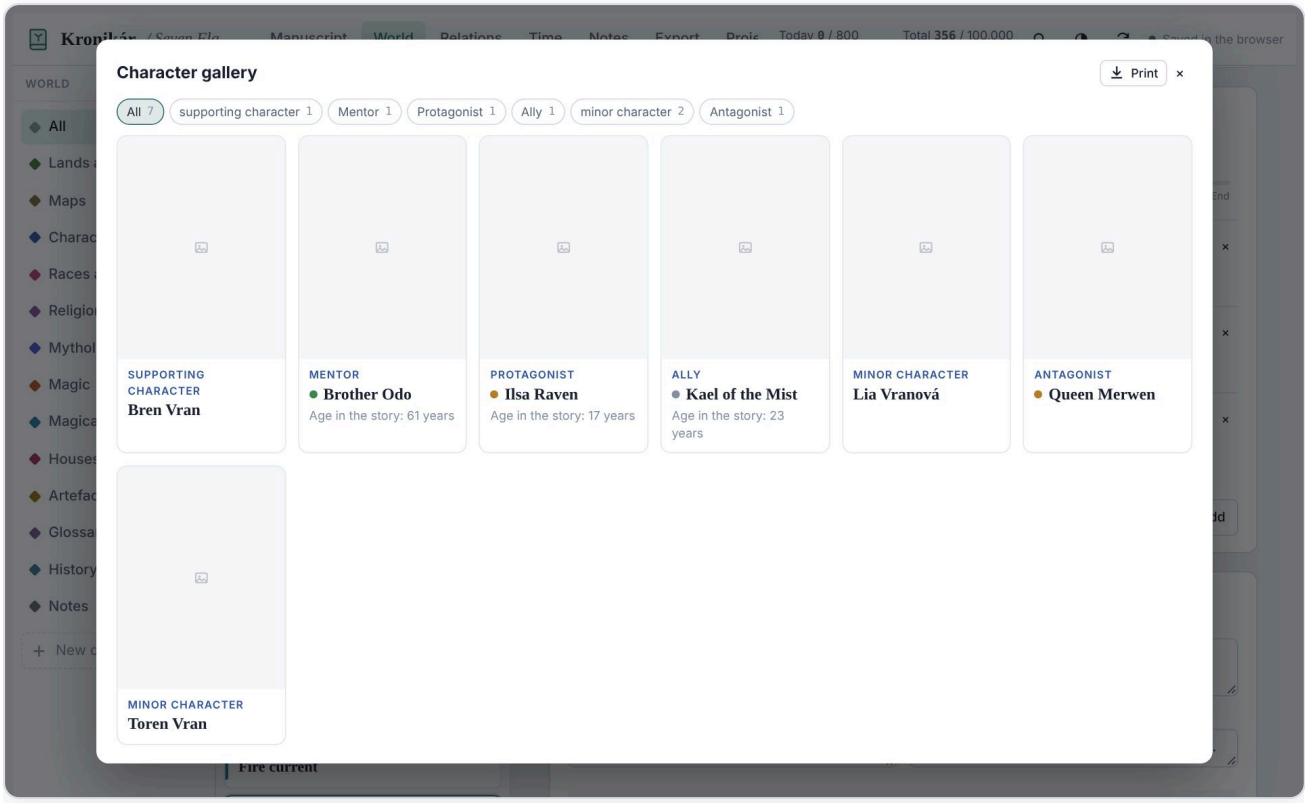

The list of entries

- Above the name is the key field – for a character the role in the story, in mythology the kind. Characters also show their nickname.
- The coloured dot before the name is the entry's status: sketch, in progress, done. The filter above the list shows one status only.
- Places show on how many maps they are; filter On a map / No map. Mythology can be filtered by group.
- A number in a beige box = open sticky notes.

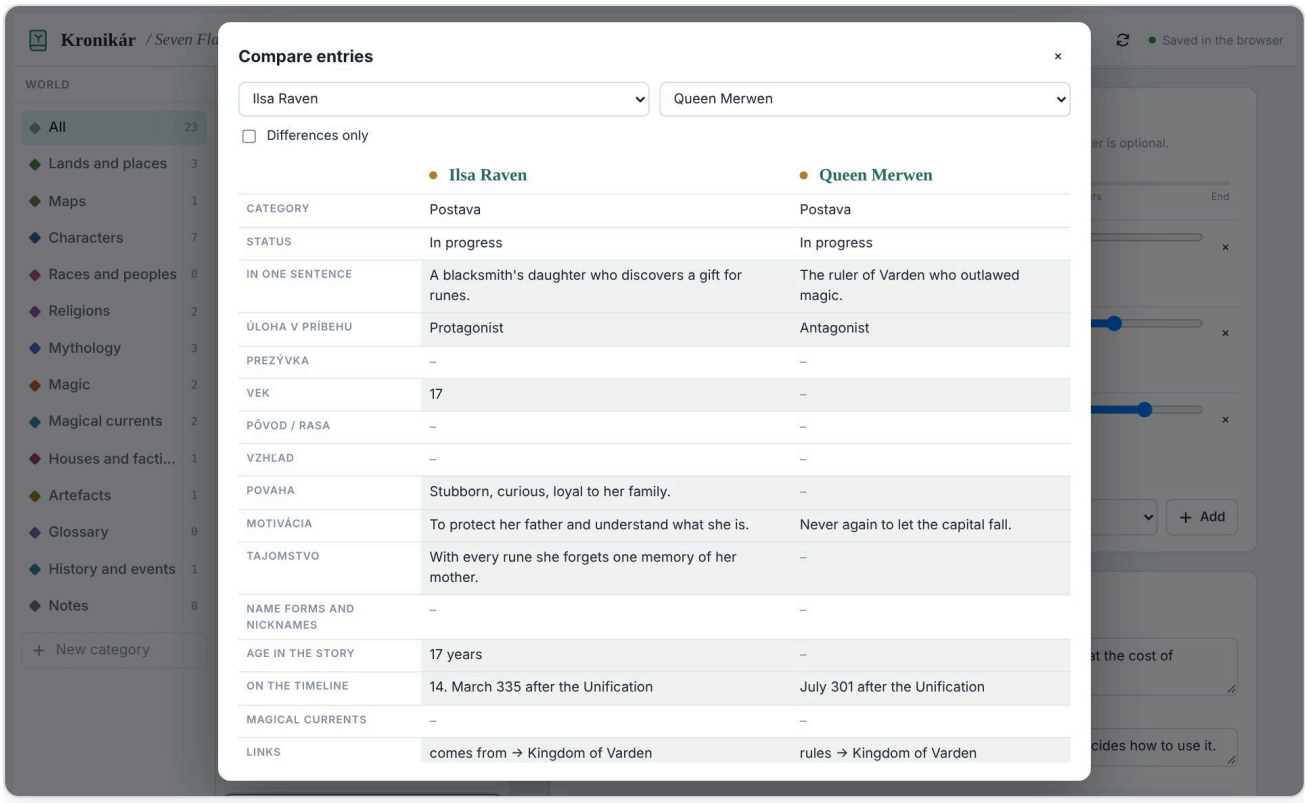

Tools above the list

BUTTON	WHAT IT DOES
Names	a name generator with names that sound like your world (or like a list you type); click a name to copy it

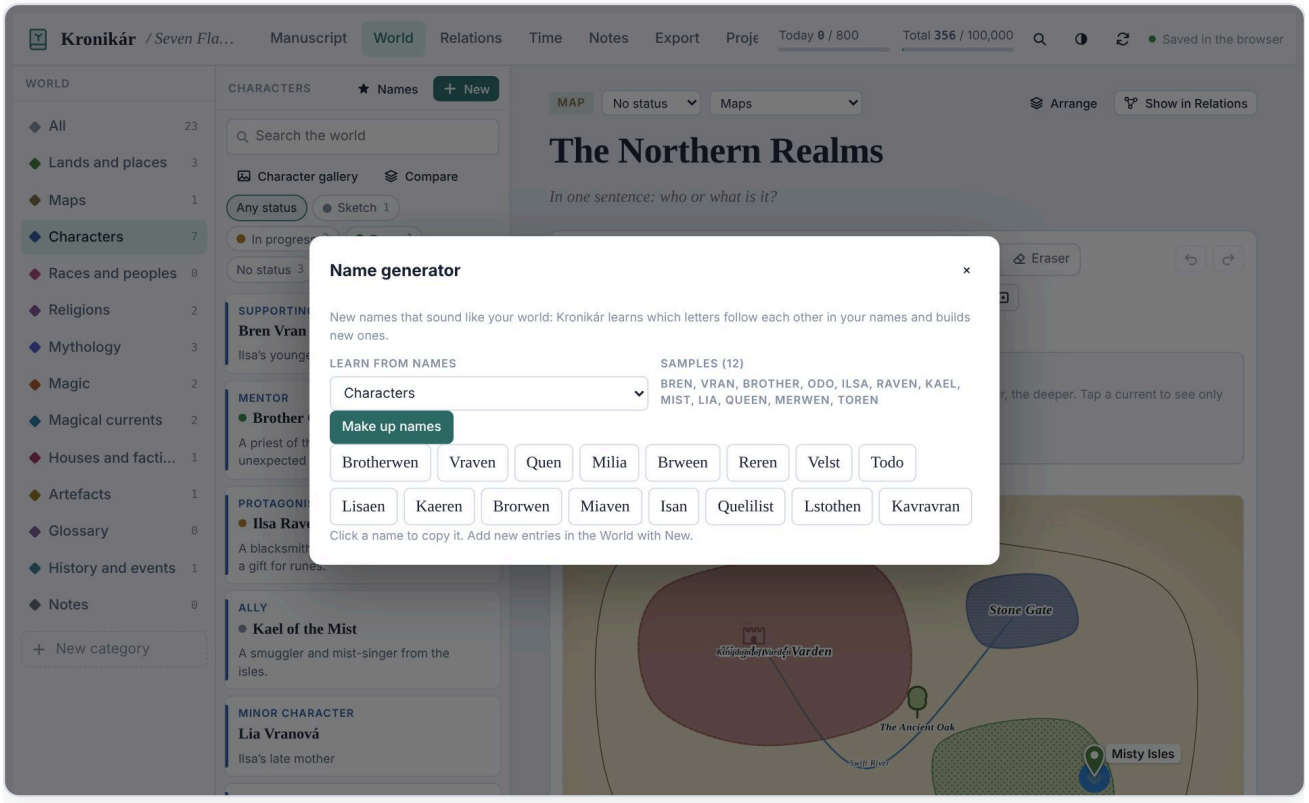

BUTTON	WHAT IT DOES
Character gallery	all characters as cards with photo, role, nickname and age in the story; filter by role; Print (on Android saved as HTML)
Compare	two entries side by side – fields, age, time, currents, links, shared links, mentions; Differences only hides matching rows
Find a place for a portal	see Magical currents

Character gallery.

7. World – an entry

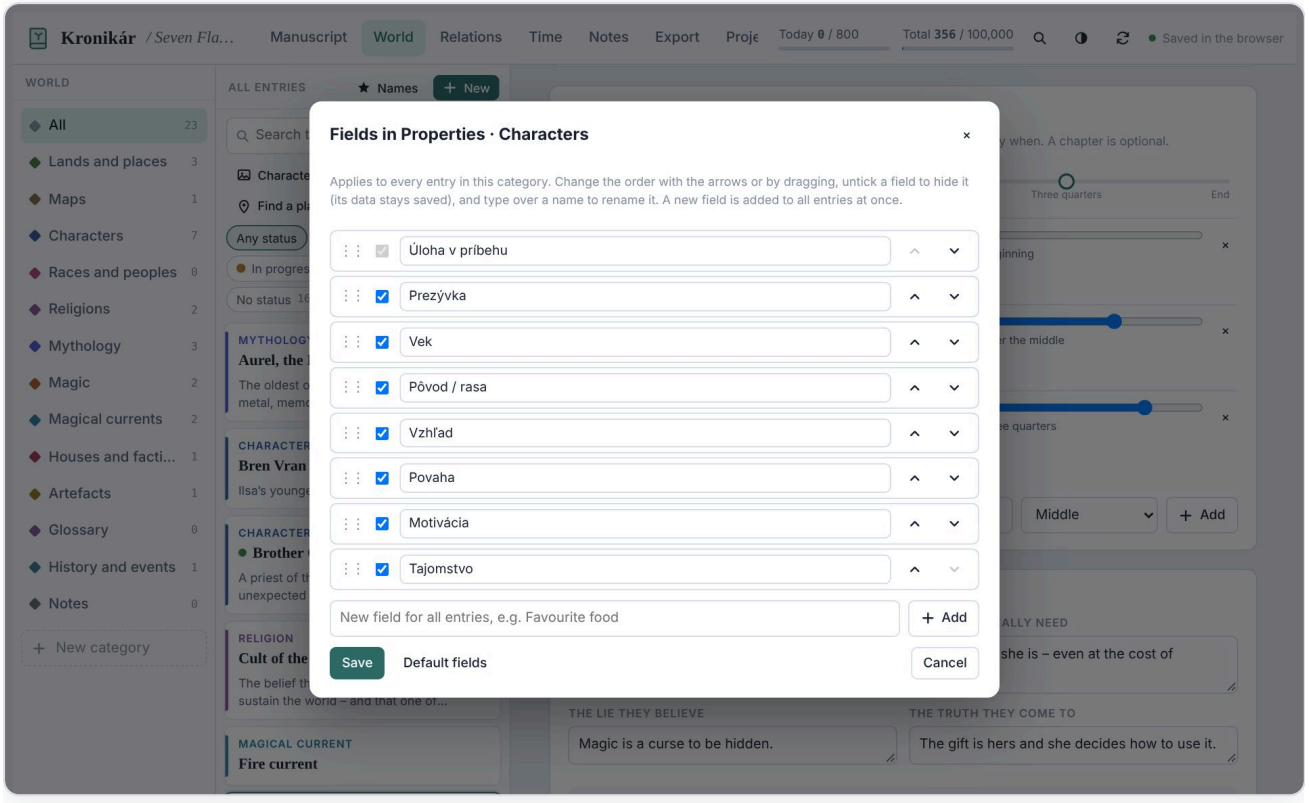

An entry has a header and sections (cards) below it. You can set the order and visibility of the sections.

Header

- Category, status (No status / Sketch / In progress / Done), key field and category picker.
- Photo (tap to add or open), name and in one sentence who or what it is.
- Arrange – order and hide the sections for the whole category. Show in Relations opens the entry in the relationship network.

Properties and fields

- Fields depend on the category. Custom field adds a field to this entry only.
- Fields – settings for the whole category: order (arrows or drag), hide (the data stays), rename, and a new field for all entries at once (e.g. Favourite food for all characters). Default fields restores the original.

Fields in Properties for the whole category.

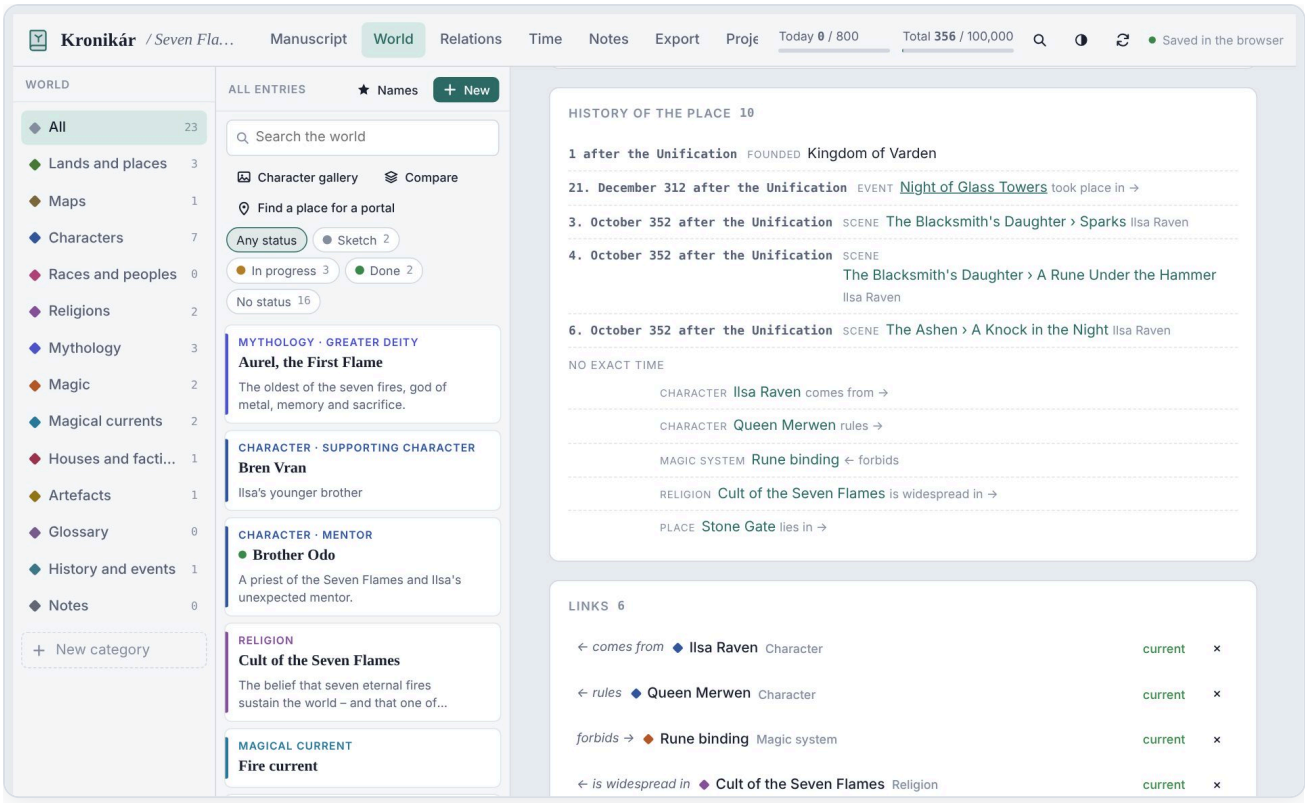

Sections of an entry

SECTION	WHAT IT HOLDS
On the map	the maps the entry is on; Place on the map if it is on none yet
Magical currents	which currents are here and how dense (see Magical currents)

SECTION	WHAT IT HOLDS
Appearance from the text	descriptions of eyes, hair, skin, face, voice, scars and build found in the manuscript; conflicting colours are flagged; + adds to Appearance, × hides a false hit
Sticky notes	to-dos for the entry with a category, tick them off when done
Photos	pictures with captions, main photo, full-screen view
Character plot line	what the story will bring her and what she must resolve – with a rough place in the story, optional chapter and a done tick
Character arc	want, need, lie, truth; a row per chapter and a small chart
On the timeline	birth and death (founding and end), age in the story and own events with a time, linked to chapters or scenes
History of the place	places only: founding, events, scenes, who lived there and when – in time order; items without an exact time below
Links	relationships with other entries
Name forms and nicknames	used to find the entry in the text; inflected forms are suggested
Links and references, Notes	Instagram, YouTube, Spotify, maps… and free text
In the manuscript	scenes where the entry is mentioned, with a snippet

Character plot line and arc.

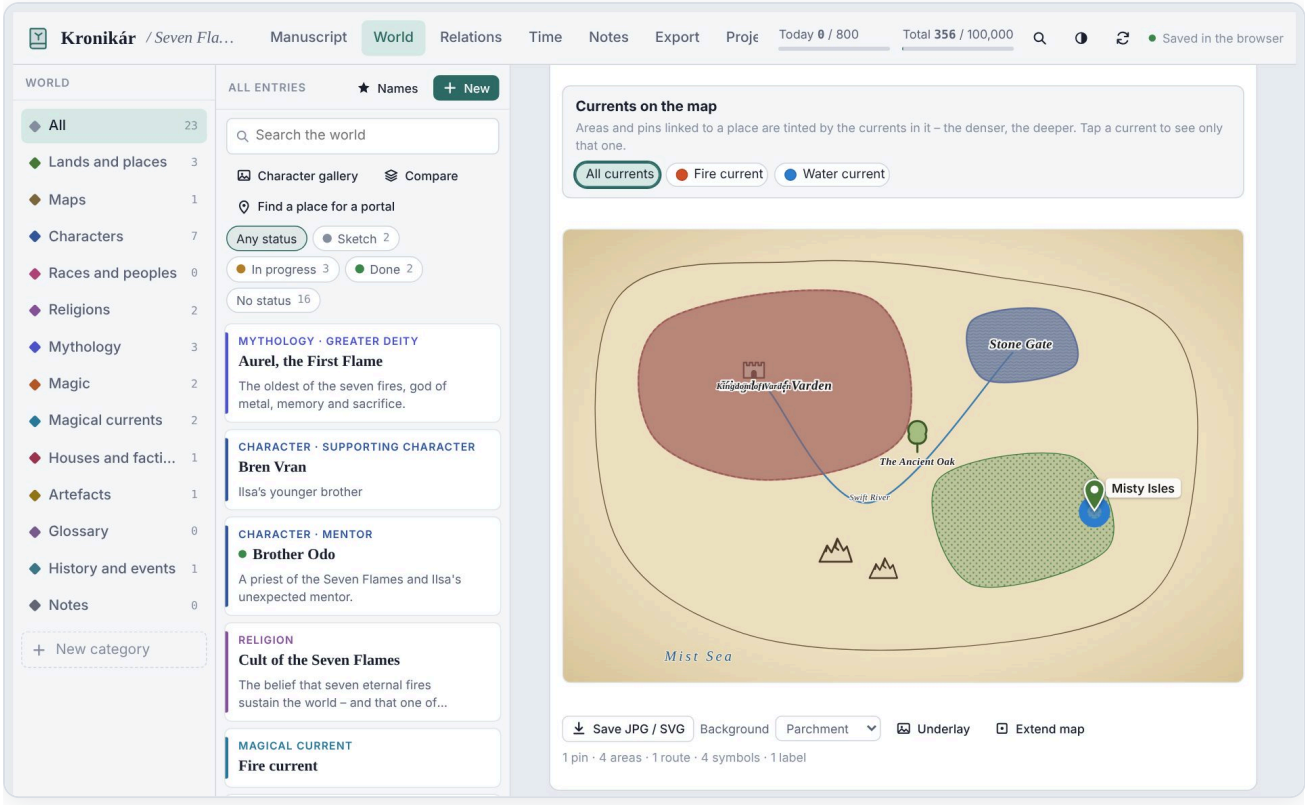

History of a place and its links.

Links

- Type a relationship (e.g. rules), choose an entry, Connect. Kronikár suggests relationships by category and the ones you have used before.
- A two-way relationship (↔) holds in both directions, optionally with a different wording the other way.
- Click a relationship to edit it: when in words (100 years ago) and/or exactly on the timeline; current → past when it no longer holds.
- On a typo Kronikár asks whether you meant an existing relationship. Edit the list of relationships – rename, merge, delete unused ones, possible duplicates.

8. Maps

A drawn map with the currents layer.

A map is an entry in the Maps category. It can be made from an image (upload it) or drawn (parchment, white paper, sea or dark background in several formats).

TOOL	WHAT IT DOES
View	pan and zoom (wheel, two fingers)
Pin	a place – an existing entry or a new one
Area	a territory point by point or by dragging – kingdom, forest, mountains, water, desert, marsh, city, ice…; with colour and pattern, linkable to an entry
Route	a journey, march or river – solid, dashed, dotted, with an arrow
Symbol	mountains, forests, cities, castles, water, animals…; drag to draw a whole range at once
Label	text for seas, regions, ranges – three styles, size, rotation, colour
Eraser	tap to delete, drag to wipe several at once (three sizes)
Undo / Redo	`Ctrl+Z` / `Ctrl+Y`; `Delete` removes the selected item

- Layers – e.g. political borders and terrain, or borders before and after a war; switch them on and off and choose which one you draw into.

- Journeys – draws the route of chosen characters through the places of their scenes (in book order or story time). With a scale (map width in km and km per day) it shows distances and warns when a journey would be too fast.
- Currents – tints areas and pins by the magical currents in them; tap a current to see only that one.
- Underlay (an image under a drawn map), Extend map (space on any side), background choice.
- Save JPG / SVG – for print with title, legend, labels and optionally the currents layer; SVG is a vector file editable in Inkscape or Illustrator.

9. Magical currents

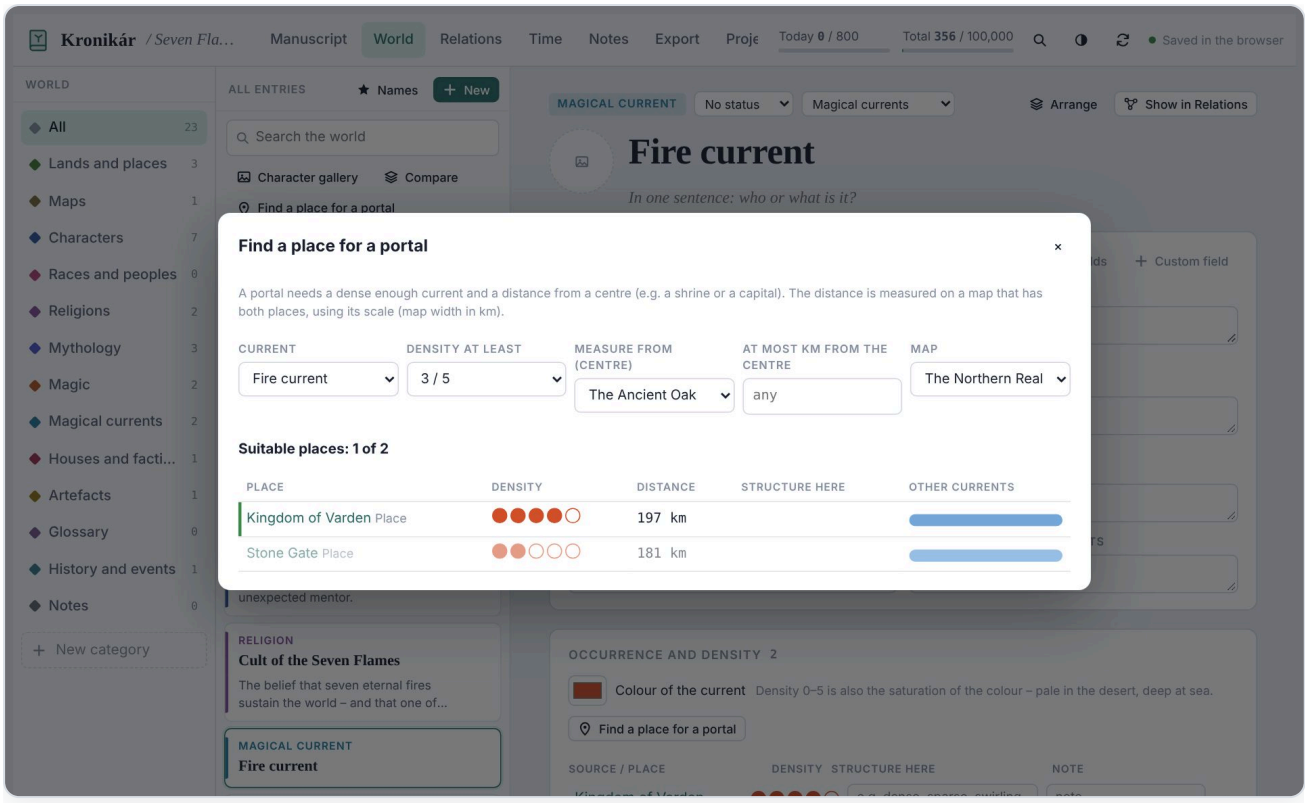

A current's entry: colour, occurrence and density.

- Each current has a colour and fields: essence, structure, how it bends and behaves, who works with it, how it shows, cost and risks, relation to other currents.
- Occurrence and density – where the current is (places, animals, races, objects or plain words: water, desert), with density 0–5 (also the saturation of its colour), the structure it has there and a note.
- Every place has a Magical currents card with a coloured bar – the mix of currents in it.

Find a place for a portal

In a current's entry or above the World list. Choose the current, minimum density, what to measure from (for example a shrine or a capital), a map and a maximum distance. Suitable places are at the top with a green line; the distance uses the map's scale.

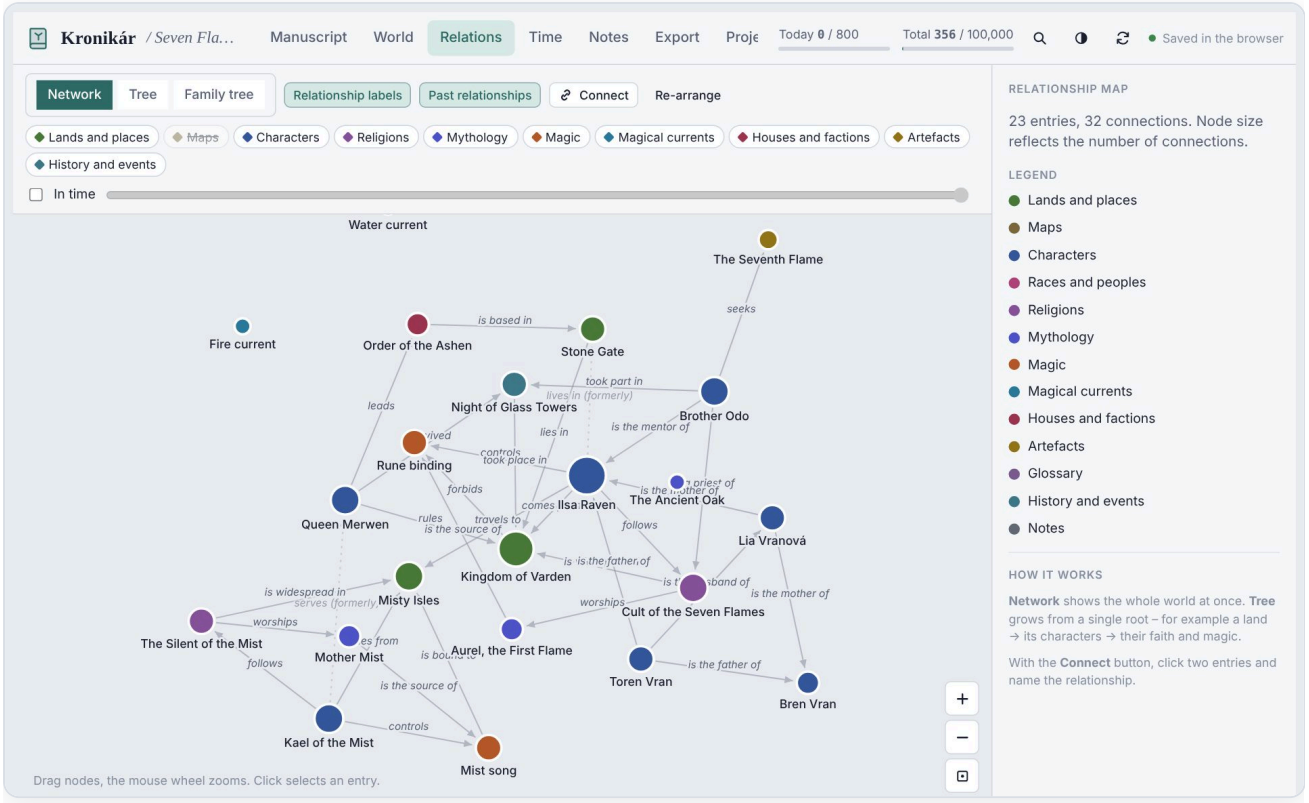

Finding a place for a portal.

MAP SCALE

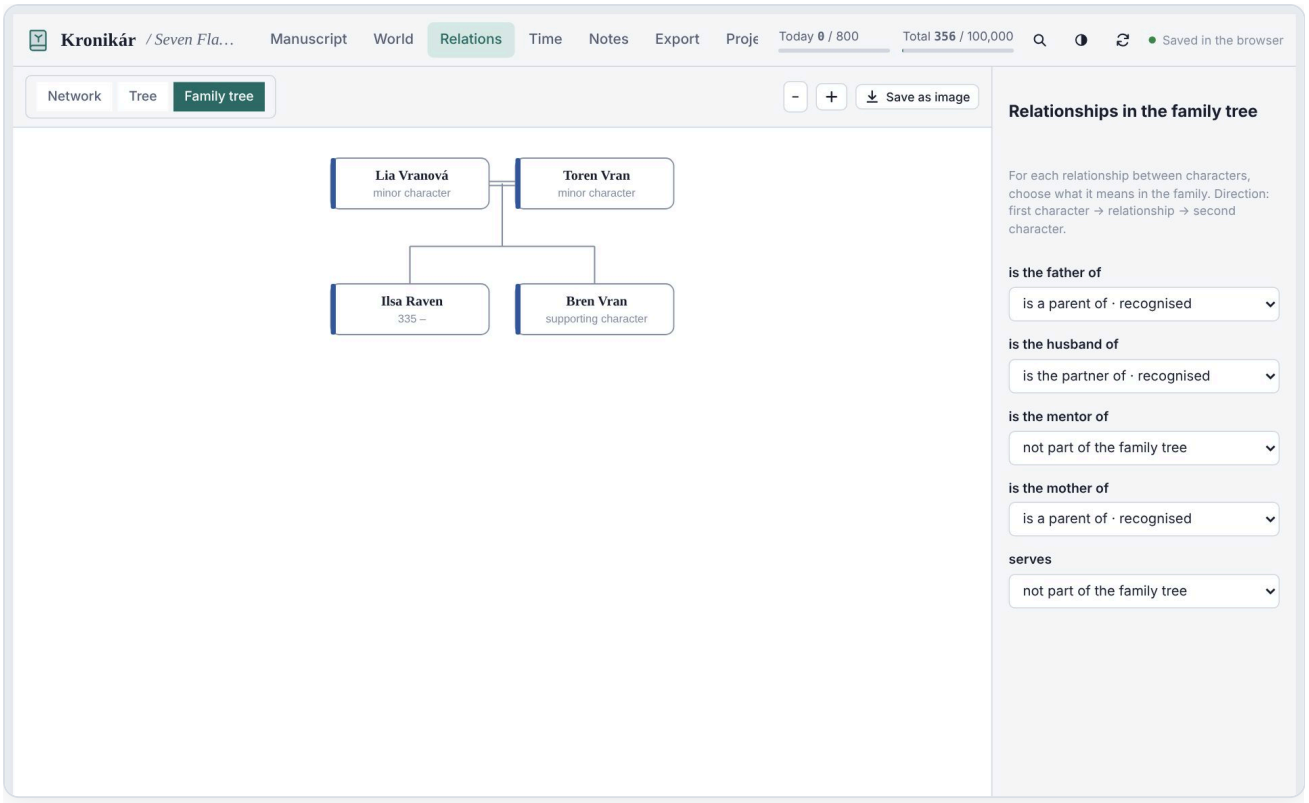

Without a scale the distance cannot be calculated. Set it on the map under Journeys (map width in km).

10. Relations

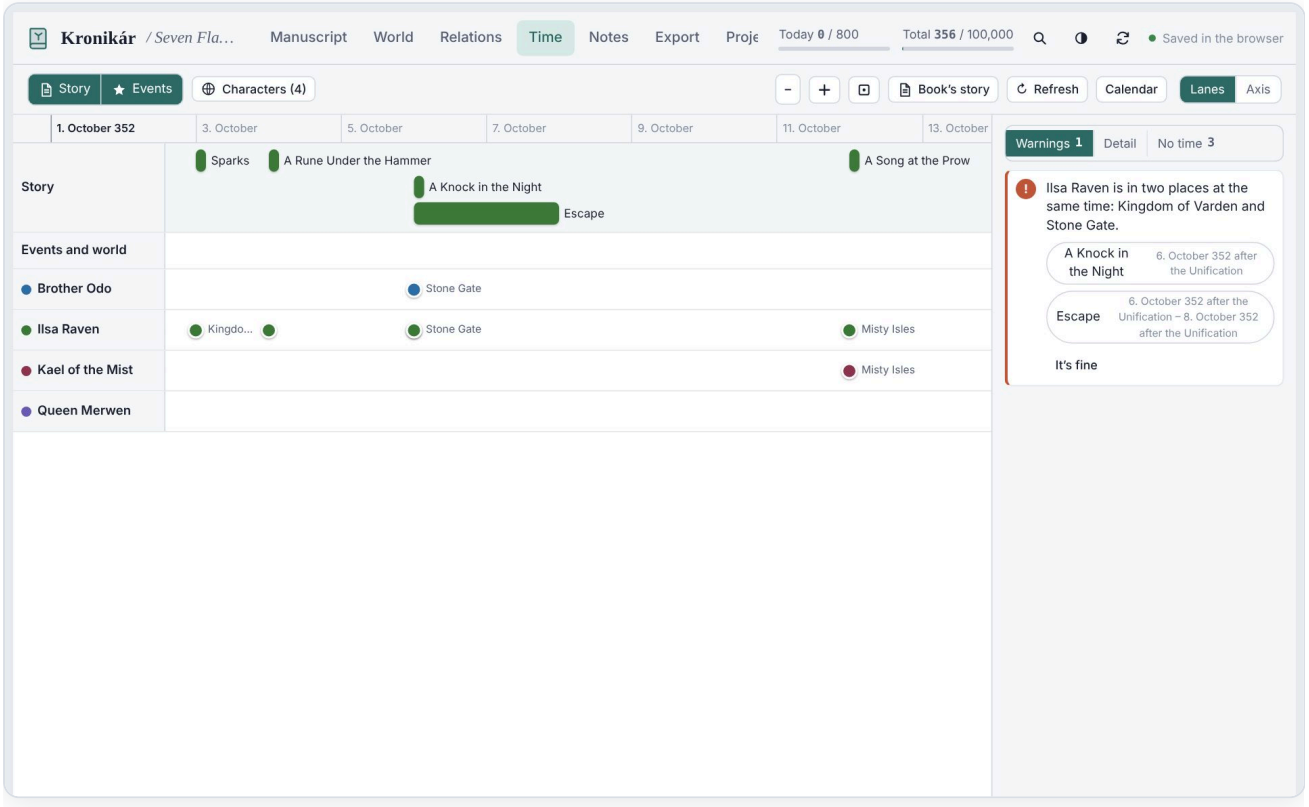

The relationship network.

- Network – the whole world at once, node size by number of links. In time with a year slider fades out what does not exist in that year.
- Tree – from one root (e.g. a land → its characters → their faith and magic).
- Family tree – builds itself from father, mother, son, daughter, sibling, husband / wife relationships (also between deities). Give your own relationships a family meaning on the right. Save as image.
- Colour filters hide categories, Relationship labels and Past relationships switch labels and past links on. Connect – click two entries and name the relationship.

Family tree.

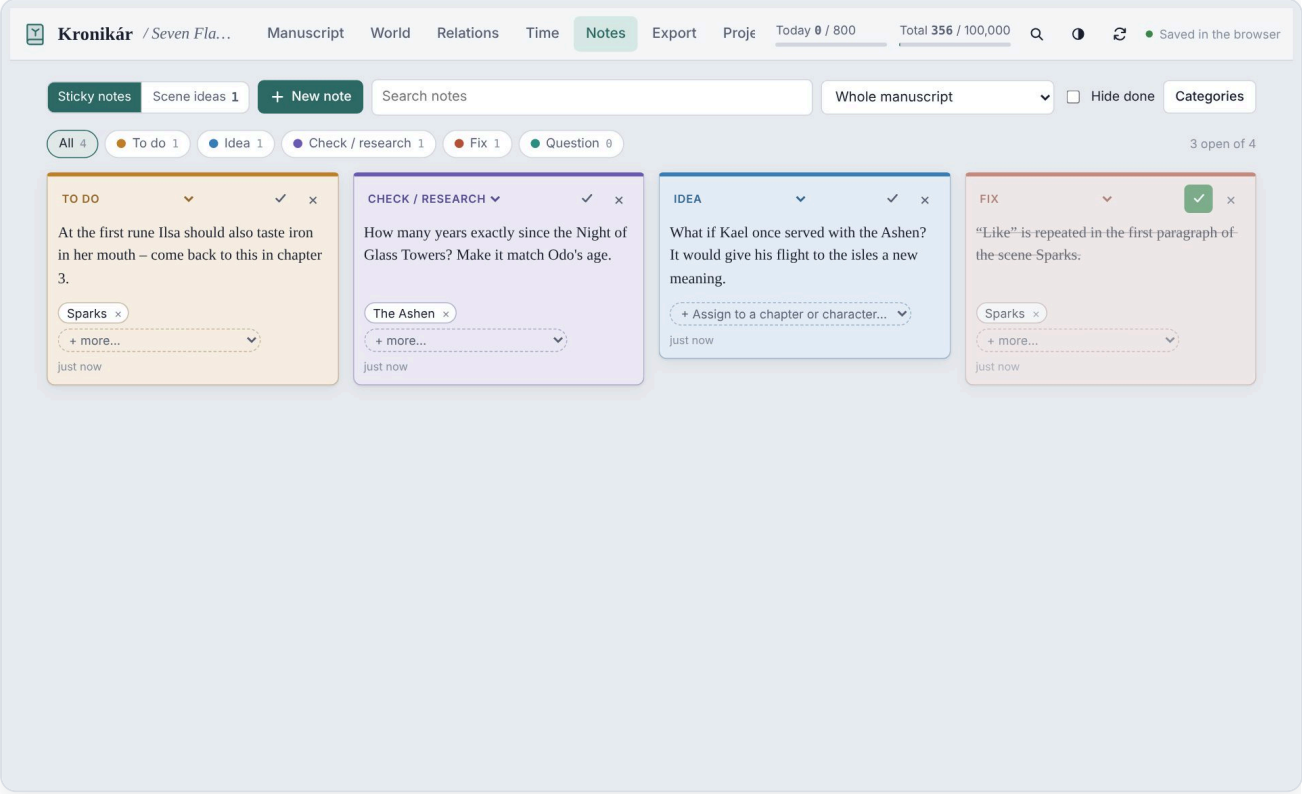

11. Time

The timeline in lanes with a warning.

- Calendar – era, month names, days in a month, holidays, moons with their cycle and seasons of your world.
- Scenes (time of the scene), events, characters' lives, relationships with a time and own events of entries on one axis.
- Lanes – a row per character; Axis – one line with a mark for every month with something on it (click a mark to see what happened then); in Axis, Split into lines separates chapters, events and characters.
- Warnings: a character in two places at once, before birth or after death. No time lists what has no time yet.
- Book's story, Refresh and zoom +/–.

12. Notes and scene ideas

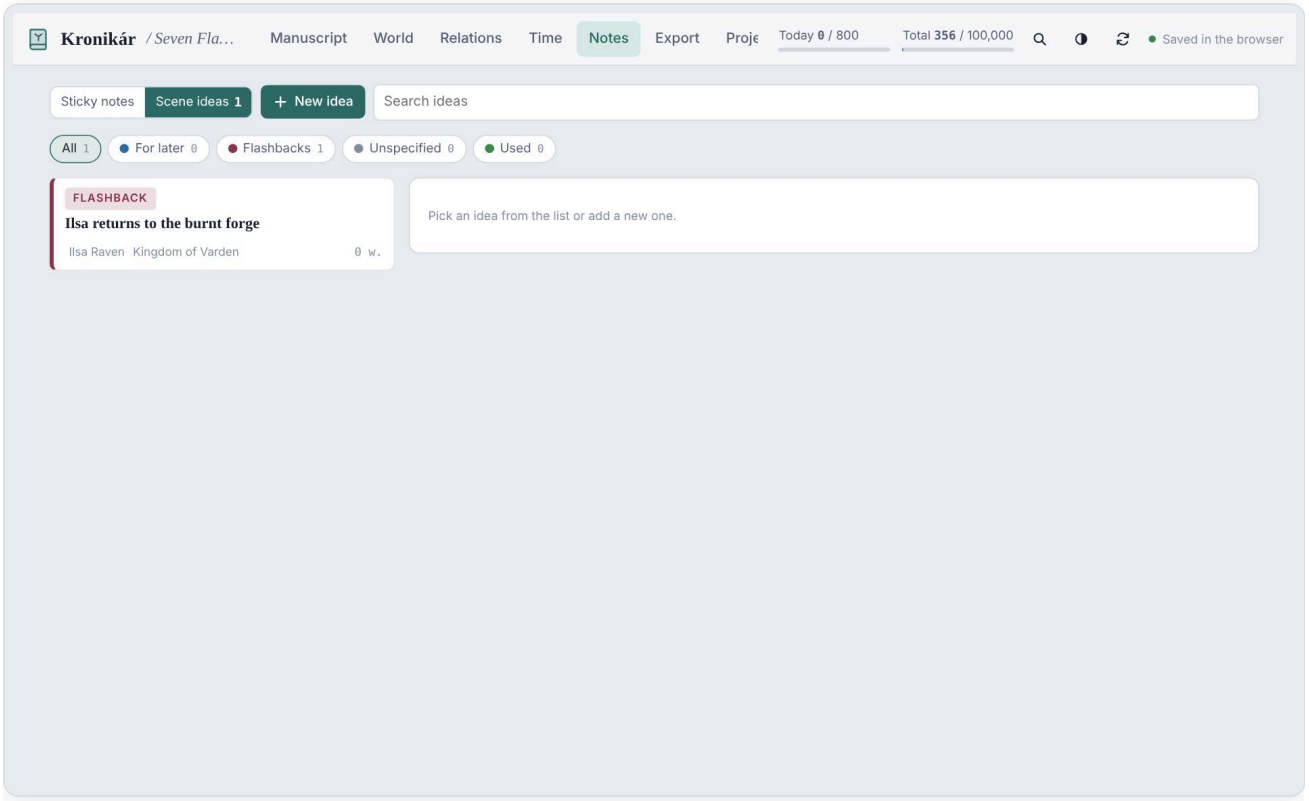

Sticky notes.

- New note – a note with a category (To work in, Idea, Check, Fix, Question – or your own via Categories).
- Attach a note to chapters, scenes, characters and other World entries. Filter the board by chapter or by character.
- Tick = done; Hide done.

Scene ideas

- Longer drafts kept outside the book: title, text, kind (for later / flashback), status, chapter, characters and places, story time.
- One button puts it into the manuscript as a scene – with its text, characters, place and time. The idea stays marked as used.

- Ideas for a character show in its entry, ideas for a chapter in its inspector.

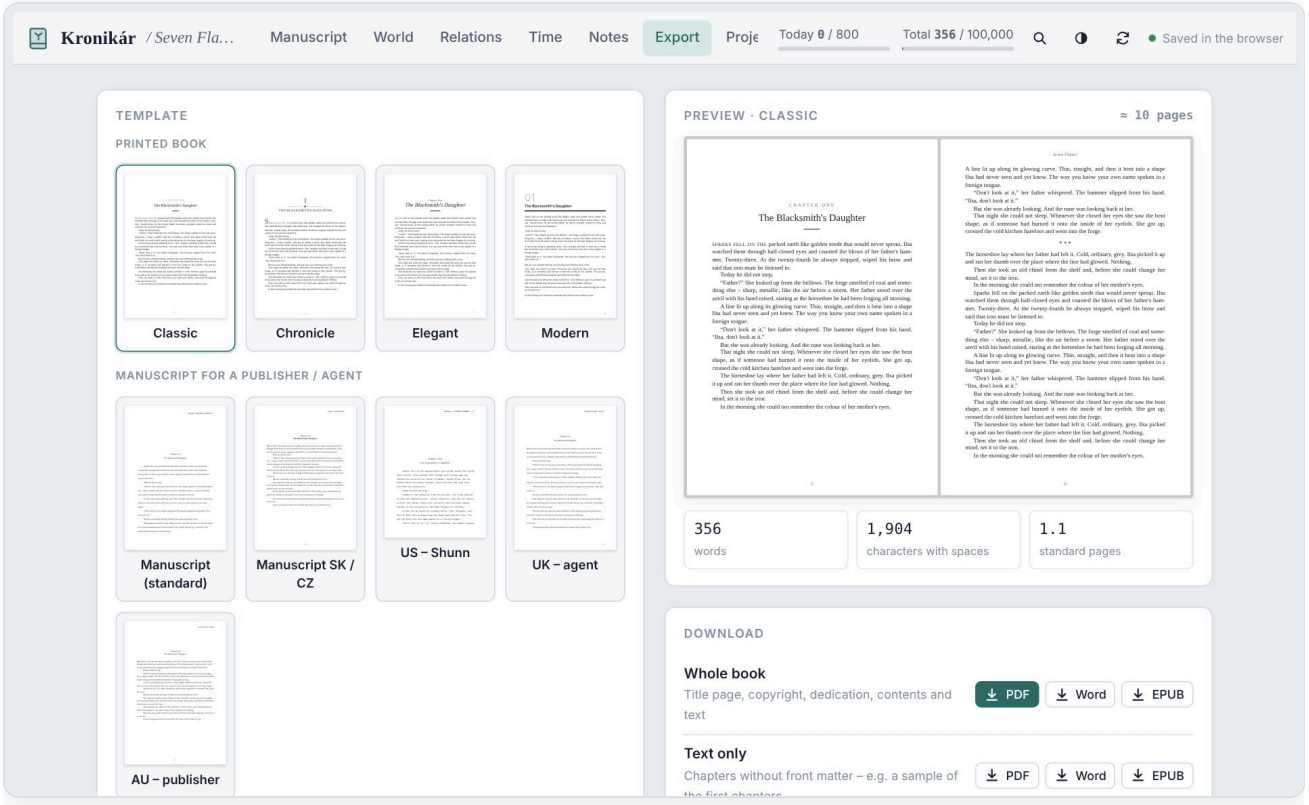

Scene ideas.

DICTATION

Scene ideas and sticky notes have a Dictate button – the system speech recogniser on Android, Web Speech in desktop Chrome or Edge.

13. Export

Export: templates, preview and downloads.

The Project section.

- Theme – follow the system, light or dark (separately on each device).

15. On a phone

Kronikár on a phone: manuscript and world.

- Sections are in the bottom bar. Tap Manuscript again to open or close the list of chapters and scenes.
- In the World you move between categories, list and entry with the back arrow.
- Press and hold to select a word. The panel for adding it to the world appears on the opposite edge so the Android bar does not cover it.
- On Android the character gallery is saved as HTML instead of printing; exports go to the `exporty` subfolder.

16. Keyboard shortcuts and tips

KEY	WHAT IT DOES
`Ctrl+K`	search everywhere
`Ctrl+B` / `Ctrl+I`	bold / italic
`"` / `'`	main / nested quotation marks
`Enter` in a scene title	jump into the scene text
`Ctrl+Z` / `Ctrl+Y` on a map	undo / redo
`Esc`	closes a dialog, search or the word panel; ends focus mode

TIP

Don't type empty lines between paragraphs – Enter starts a new paragraph and the export adds indents or spacing according to the template.
